DANA'S DIRECTION

"Thy Kingdom Come"

When I was growing up, it was still the practice to begin every school day by pledging allegiance to the flag and repeating the Lord's Prayer. My Bible class teacher told us that when we said the Lord's Prayer we should not repeat the phrase "Thy kingdom come." The reason, she said is because the Kingdom of God is the church and the church has already come. So dutifully, whenever we began the school day I would say under my breath "Thy kingdom has come."

What she said was true. The statement Jesus made when he taught his disciples to pray was a reference to the coming of the church. The Old Testament is filled with prophecies regarding the coming of God's kingdom on earth. The place where this kingdom would begin is specified as Jerusalem. (Isaiah 2:1-2) The time of the kingdom's establishment was foretold to be in the days of the Roman Empire. (Daniel 2:44).

Both John the Baptist and Jesus began their preaching ministries by telling people to "Repent for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." (Matthew 3:2; 4:17) What did they mean by "at hand?" Jesus plainly stated that meant soon, in fact during the lifetime of those to whom he was speaking. "Assuredly, I say to you, there are some standing here who shall not taste of death till they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom." (Matthew 17:27)

Jesus also told of the establishment of the church. Upon Peter's confession "You are the Christ, the Son of the Living God," Jesus said "Upon this rock, I will build My church." (Matthew 16:18) And what was this church? The kingdom of God on earth. Jesus continued "And I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be loosed in heaven. (Matthew 16:19) After his resurrection, Jesus told the disciples not to depart from Jerusalem. Why? Because of the coming of the kingdom.

On the Day of Pentecost, all of these prophecies and promises were fulfilled. Peter preached the gospel in its fullness for the first time. He indeed held the keys to the kingdom. When asked "Men and brethren, what shall we do," Peter presented the terms of entrance into the kingdom. "Repent, and let everyone of you be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of your sins." (Acts 2:38) "Those who gladly received his word were baptized, and that day about three thousand souls were added to them." (Acts 2:41) What were they added to? "And the Lord added to the church daily those who were being saved." (Acts 2:47) Contrary to the preaching of some - Jesus is not coming again to establish his kingdom on earth. The kingdom has already come - it is his church.

But what about the Lord's Prayer? Is it wrong to pray "Thy kingdom come?" What did Jesus say for us to pray regarding his kingdom? "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done one earth as it is in heaven." (Matthew 6:10) A kingdom is the sphere of authority of a king. Jesus has all authority in heaven and on earth. (Matthew 28:18) The kingdom of God is where His will is done. Can that always be said about the church? Can that always be said about my life, or yours? I believe that we should constantly pray that God's rule will come and prevail in our lives and in the church.

And what about the lost? Should we not pray that they will seek and find the kingdom of God? Should we not pray that the borders of God's kingdom will be spread to the corners of the earth? Should we not pray that people and rulers of every nation on earth will submit themselves to the rule of God? Wouldn't it be wonderful to see the kingdom of God prevail? "God of heaven will set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever!" (Daniel 2:44) Thy kingdom come!

Tonk Talk by Mark T. Tonkery

Broken Hearted

Steve Higginbotham recently introduced me to a new term, a new art, and a new perspective on a great truth. He asks:

Have you ever heard of "Kintsugi"? Kintsugi is the Japanese art of repairing broken pottery with a "glue" made of gold. Rather than throwing away a vase, bowl, or cup that had been dropped and broken, these items can be repaired by gluing the pieces back together with gold. The repair can actually make the piece of pottery more beautiful and more valuable than it was before it was broken.

Instead of broken pottery, consider broken hearts.

Here's a beautiful truth: God specializes in mending broken hearts.

Steve Higginbotham informs us that he knows the blessing of this truth personally: On a personal level, I have learned the value of brokenness. For the majority of my life, everything was easy. The biggest challenges I faced throughout my youth seem trifling to me today. My life, along with my wife, had a fairy-tale beginning, but eventually we began to experience "breaks" (e.g. the miscarriage of a child; the death of my father-in-law, mother-in-law, and my dad; and most shattering, the choices of one of our children).

These breaks, and countless others, could cause one to retreat, give up, and become bitter. They hurt (present tense), but my wife and I refuse to allow our life together to be little more than useless, broken shards of pottery littering the floor. No, instead, we've given the broken pieces to the Lord who has put us back together, I believe, even more valuable in His service than before. The breaks haven't been desired, but they have been profitable in the hands of "The Potter" (Romans 9:20-23).

As Steve indicates, there are many different things – situations, trials – that can break our hearts. One thing that should break our hearts, however, is sin.

"The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit,
A broken and a contrite heart—
These, O God, You will not despise."
-- Psalm 51:17

These words were written by David in a penitential psalm that he wrote after Nathan the prophet confronted him about his sin with Bathsheba (see 2 Samuel 12). David acknowledges his sin and his heart is broken. He desperately seeks the cleansing of his sin by God (see Psalm 51:1-4). God, observing David's repentance and confession, forgave him (see 2 Samuel 12:13-14; Psalm 32:1-5).

A broken and contrite heart, God will not despise. The brokenness is evidence of true godly sorrow which leads to repentance. God "honors" the heart that is broken by sin by healing it with His forgiveness and love.

"He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds."
--Psalm 147:3

Even though we are sinners, God loves us so much that He gave His One and only Son to die on the cross for our sin (John 3:16). Through Jesus, we can have our sins washed away by His blood (Ephesians 1:7).

God will forgive and give the gift of eternal life to those who will place their faith and trust in Jesus (Acts 16:30-31), turn from their sins in repentance (Acts 17:30-31), confess Jesus before men (Romans 10:9-10), and are baptized (immersed) into Christ for the forgiveness of sins (Acts 2:38). He will continue to cleanse from sin those who continue to walk in the light of His Word (1 John 1:7).

Steve Higginbotham encourages the broken-hearted: "If your life has been shattered by loss, disappointment, and sin, don't give up (Galatians 6:9). God can do amazing things with the pieces of your life. In fact, He can make you more useful and beautiful than you were before you were broken."

And He will, if only you will submit your heart and your life to Him. Won't YOU?

-- David A. Sargent
